Chapter 7

Hearing this, Xing Yuhan frowned and threatened in a cold tone, "Try it again."

"Don't touch me when I say I won't see your face," cried Suli Quercus, plucking up his courage.

"You have balls." When Xing Beihan said these three words, no tone could be heard.

She felt very baffled and thought for a while before saying, "Then do you want to take a look? Don't worry, no matter what you look like, I'll accept it. The raw rice has already been cooked. "I've already mentally prepared myself. If you agree, I'll turn on the light now."

Su Li's words were sincere, and he hoped that Xing Beihan would understand that she meant him no harm. She just didn't want the two of them to have such a huge estrangement between them.

Xing Beihan's cold voice came from up above. "What are you going to do with me if you just turn on the lights?" Remember, I am your husband, your God. Between the two of us, I will be the one in charge! "

The voice was domineering and forbidding, as if everything he said was true. Suriyawong could not read his expression, but he could tell from his tone that he was upset.

Was marrying him her god? Oak Suli felt bitter in his heart...

This man was too unreasonable. This was not the old society. Normally, if she encountered such a thing, she would definitely bring him to court. However, she had done it on her own accord. She had voluntarily sent herself into the wolf's mouth, had voluntarily betrayed herself.

Suli oak, all this is your own fault!

"Okay, I won't show it to you, right? Then I won't look anymore, do you think I care!" Su Li said in a bad mood while trying his best to resist the urge to leave.

If she didn't look, she wouldn't look. If she really did see his face, she might be disgusted to death.

"Don't mention it in the future," Xing Beihan said in a low voice. "Just stay put."

Su Li smiled wryly, and his body was quickly taken over ...

It was the familiar Little Yan again. If only Xing Beihan could speak in such a tone, Su Li thought bitterly.

Xing Beihan didn't show up for the next few days because the date of ovulation had already passed.

It would be good if he didn't come, but at least he would be free.

For the past few days, the oaks of Suriyawong ate every day to help pregnant food, to eat and eat the same things, all to the extent of wanting to vomit. At the same time, the butler kept whispering in her ear that he hoped she had succeeded.

Every time Suli Quercus heard the butler say this, he felt very uncomfortable.

Every day, the oaks were free, and she had almost nothing to do but exercise for an hour. When she was free, she suddenly thought of the strange noise she had heard before. Since she had nothing to do, she might as well investigate it to the end.

Su Li's first thought was Xiao Yue, after these few days of interaction, her relationship with Xiao Yue was already not ordinary.

"Do you know that tall, long corridor to the east? I heard a strange noise there! Do you know what's going on? "

Xiao Yue whispered, "Which corridor are you talking about? There are very few people who go there normally." As for the strange sounds you're talking about, I haven't heard them. "Quickly tell me, what is that sound!"

Su Li told Xiao Yue everything that happened to him, and Xiao Yue excitedly said, "Oh my god, this is too interesting! Why don't the two of us go take a look? Who knows? Maybe there's some huge secret hidden inside! Hurry, hurry, I want to go now! "

Su Li stopped her and gently said, “Don’t worry. Can you provide me with some information? “For example, why is there no one going down that corridor?”

Xiao Yue thought for a while and said, “This villa is divided into four sides, east, east and west. The east side is where there are the least people, and the corridor is to the east. There are usually some old items stored there, and there is also an empty guest room. If a doctor comes, he will usually stay in the east. “

Suri oak curiously asked, “What doctor?”

Xiao Yue smiled and said, “Of course they are excellent doctors, and some foreign doctors. They will come to the villa from time to time and check on our health, they are especially good.”

“Since there are no people to the east and they are so far from the gate, why should they arrange for the doctor to stay there? “As far as I know, there are plenty of empty guest rooms in other places.”

Inside... He had a nagging feeling that something was wrong.

Xiao Yue thought about it and said, “I don’t know, ever since I came here, all doctors must be living in the east.”

She thought for a moment and asked, “Do you know what the doctors do?”

“How would I know? I have a job too, I can’t just keep an eye on them all day, can I? From what I can see, they should be checking our bodies. They have diseases to treat, and they don’t have diseases to strengthen their bodies. Why do you care? In any case, the young master has so much money, it doesn’t matter if we get more doctors. “

Su Li and Xiao Yue walked to the east side of the corridor.

This place was surprisingly quiet. Aside from the few potted plants in the corner, there was no other sign of life. The black walls and tall pillars gave off a suffocating pressure.

This time, there was still some lingering fear in Oak Su Li’s heart after coming here. He was afraid that he would hear that terrifying sound again. Xiao Le was not afraid. She was happily jumping around as if she had great interest in this matter.

The two of them walked closer and closer to the black door. They saw a chair in front of the door and a woman in a black robe sitting on it. The woman now had her head down, as if she were dozing.

Hearing footsteps, the woman suddenly raised her head and shouted, "Who are you? What are you doing here?" After saying that, he waved his hands in a manner as if he was about to chase them away.

To tell the truth, the Suli oak tree was shocked when the woman looked up. She wore thick black-rimmed glasses, and her skin was very white, devoid of any color. Her expression was very gloomy. He suddenly raised his head, looking like a ferocious ghost that was about to devour her, and scared Su Li so much that he subconsciously retreated a few steps back.

Xiao Yue was not afraid at all as she laughed with her hands on her hips. She shouted, "Hey, who are you! Don't be so rude, look clearly, this is our Young Mistress!"

The gatekeeper had never met the Young Mistress, but she had heard of her. Hearing Xiao Yue's words, she immediately realized that she had done something wrong and apologized, "Young Mistress, I apologize for my earlier offense. Right, do you have something to say?"

Su Li put on a fake smile and said, "I'm just here for a walk. I think the decorations are quite good. It's different from other places."

The janitor gave a fake smile. "If you like it, you can watch it." She returned to her chair. The chair was in the corner, with a black door on the right and a brown side door on the left.

Suli oak looked at her, feeling strange. "Why are you standing here?" he asked. Aren't you busy?"

"My job is to guard this place."

"These two doors, you mean?"

The gatekeeper hesitated for a moment before nodding slightly. "Yes." It was as if he didn't want to admit it.

Suri oak pretended to be uninterested and asked, "What's in there?"
"So important?"

"I'm not sure either, but they should be very precious."

"How long have you been here?" asked Suli.

"I was hired just three days ago."

Su Li nodded thoughtfully. It turned out that she had only been here for a few days. That meant that she did not even know that she had passed by here and had heard the scream.

She laughed and said, "It just so happens that I've been very bored lately. I want to go in and see what good stuff I have." After speaking, she brought Xiao Yue along with her and pretended that she wanted to barge in.

The gatekeeper used his body to stop her, "No, no!" Her face was contorted and cold sweat beaded her forehead.

Xiao Yue scolded loudly, "Who gave you the guts to stop the young mistress? Is this your home? Look carefully, this is the home of the young master and the young mistress. If you mess with the young mistress, she can fire you at any time! If you know what's good for you, then open the door for us!"

The janitor, still holding on to her bottom line, shielded the door with her body and said, "No, no one can go in! The steward has repeatedly told me not to let anyone into the house. I beg you, please do my best and don't make things difficult for me anymore!"

Su Li thought for a moment, took a step back and said in a gentle voice, "Alright, I won't make things difficult for you. But tell me the truth, what exactly is inside? Don't worry, I won't tell anyone."

"This... I don't know. "

"Did you hear any strange sounds coming from inside?"

"No ...." "No." Her eyes twinkled as she said this, her expression unnatural.

This person must be lying. Back then, she had only inadvertently passed by and heard strange sounds coming from inside. Why hadn't this person heard him for three days? If there really was someone inside, it was impossible for them to not make a sound!

She must be hiding something from her!

Although the butler warned again and again, Suli oak not to be curious. However, she couldn't help herself from trying to find out. After all, she was a part of the manor. If there really was a secret behind it, how could she live in peace?

Just as the Suli oak tree was trying to coax the words out of the concierge's hand, the shrill scream suddenly rang out.

Ah!

Su Li and Xiao Yue jumped up in fright, hugging each other tightly!

The gatekeeper had an ugly expression on his face. He stomped his feet and paced around anxiously. His eyes flickered like ants on a hot pan.

She was not frightened by the sudden voice. There was no expression of surprise on her face, only worry. Because her lie had been exposed.

This time, the screeching of the Suli oak tree was the same as the last time, shrill and shrill, as if it were about to burst his eardrums. It was as if a little ghost in hell was being thrown into a pan of oil, letting out miserable cries. It was absolutely horrifying, making people's goosebumps rise up.

Xiao Yue hugged the oak tree tightly. She was also screaming, and her screams had almost drowned out the sounds coming from outside the door.

After five to six seconds, the screams stopped and Xiao Yue gradually recovered, returning to her normal state.

Suriyawong said in shock, "What's going on? We need to go in and take a look!" She made as if to charge in.

The guard stopped her and loudly said: "Young mistress, you must not go inside. Young master has ordered that no one is allowed inside!"

Upon hearing the two words' young master ', Quercus shuriensis stopped moving. Her intuition told her that this had nothing to do with Xing Beihan.

Puzzled, she asked, "Young Master?"

This was the man's territory. If he didn't want others to enter, he could still stop them from entering. This was his right to freedom. But why this room?

There must be something fishy going on here!

That man was already strange enough. Now that he had such a strange room, was he going to be addicted to suspense?

Why was she so unlucky? He thought he had married into a good family, but one thing after another, these kinds of things happened.

You are very unlucky, Quercus Suriyawong!

The gatekeeper seemed to have found a lifesaver as he solemnly vowed, "Yes, it's Young Master. He has instructed that no one is to enter, not even you. "

Xiao Yue shot out a string of words, "Didn't you say that this was just a warehouse? Why was there a sound from inside? Is someone there? Tell me, is there something in there that can't be exposed to the light? You actually refused to let me in, you're so secretive! "

Seeing that no one was listening, his head began to hurt. He frowned and said, "Don't make things difficult for me, quickly leave this place!"

"Tell me," said Suriyawong, "what is in the room? Is there anyone here? I'll leave after you explain everything! "

"No, there's no one inside. That voice is just ..."

"What is it?"

"It was issued by the machine! Yes, it was sent by the machine. " The concierge nodded stiffly.

"What machine?"

“I don’t know.” She said this in a lower voice.

Su Li had some idea. Judging from the man’s reaction, it was obvious that someone was inside. How could it be the sound of a machine? It was one thing for him to lie to a child like this, but there was no way he could lie to her.

The man had a very strange reaction. He looked flustered when he heard that she had said there was someone inside. What kind of machine was this? Wasn’t this the same as creating a machine?

Suriyawong was sure that there was someone inside!

This was absolutely not a simple room.

“How do you make me believe you’re telling the truth? Otherwise, we will not let this matter rest! “

The gatekeeper made a prayer with both hands and said in a sobbing tone, “I really don’t know anything. Please don’t make things difficult for me!”

If it weren’t for the fact that there had been people frequently entering and exiting this room these past few days, and that it would be inconvenient to lock the door, she wouldn’t have been sent here to check on the door. He had originally thought that this would be a simple and high-paying job. He hadn’t thought that he would meet two people that liked to find fault with each other. She was really drunk!

Before taking the job, she had signed a confidentiality clause that she wouldn’t tell anyone even if she was beaten to death. Otherwise, not only would she violate the contract, she would also be targeted by the Xing Family.

It had to be known that Xing Beihan was one of the most powerful families in the city. If he was angered, the consequences would be dire.

“I didn’t mean to embarrass you. I just wanted to know what was inside. “After all, I am also from this family.”

Even though her tone had softened, the doorman was still frightened, like an aggrieved lamb.

Su Li was speechless. At this moment, a familiar voice came from afar.

“Aiyo, isn’t this Young Mistress? What brings you here? “

The housekeeper walked over with her fat body twisted. Her expression was strange and her smile was very hypocritical. There were several folds of flesh on her chin.
